NORWEGIAN VISMA GROUP ACQUIRES DUTCH LEARNING & DEVELOPMENT CLOUD SOLUTION PROVIDER PLUSPORT

The Hague, 3 September 2019 - Visma has reached an agreement to take over PlusPort, the market leader in cloud solutions for learning and development. The sublabel SafetyPort will also be part of the transaction.

Visma's presence in the Dutch market has grown exponentially over the last 12 months. The company's software offerings in the Dutch market include financial management, HRM, procurement and eGovernment solutions. In addition to Visma Connect (EBPI) and Visma Software, several well-known trademarks like Raet, Roxit, ProActive, Davilex, Idella and Pinkweb are part of the Visma group.

PlusPort delivers learning and development cloud solutions. Their solutions are used by over 975,000 professionals, making PlusPort the Dutch market leader in cloud-based learning and certification services. Customers can employ the PlusPort platform on a worldwide scale, and the number of active users ranges from 100 to over 35,000 active users per customer portal across many industries. Its sublabel SafetyPort delivers cloud-based Risk Mitigation Systems where customers register and analyse incidents and manage corrective actions to mitigate risk.

"We are delighted to welcome PlusPort into the Visma family. The products and services offered by PlusPort are an excellent addition to our national and international portfolio. This strengthens our position as a leading cloud software provider in the Netherlands and international markets," said Carsten Boje Møller, Division Director of Visma Custom Solutions.

"We look forward to developing our proposition under the ownership of a strong organisation like Visma. This is a natural and important step for PlusPort going forward. We can now realise our ambition to deliver the best products and services in a faster and more stable way. By enriching our team with the experience and knowledge from the Visma group, we can even better serve the needs of our customers," says Ron Bruijn, Director of PlusPort.
